OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

QUITE OFTEN PEOPLE who are away on vacation drop those "wish-you-were-here" notes to the staff.

So when a picture post card arrived recently signed by "Annie" we all tried to think of which one of our loyal subscribers by that name had remembered us.

Then someone happened to look at the address. It was the right number for the Campbell Press post office box all right (158).

But the name of the town on the card was listed as "Camptonville" and not Campbell.....

In fact, it was addressed to Presbyterian Pines, in Camptonville.

We had to check the maps in the office to locate Camptonville, for no one could pinpoint the spot.

So, even if it was not a loyal subscriber who was writing us, all was not wasted.

We learned about another town in our state.

And we thought we knew 'em all.

OBVIOUSLY NEWSpaper people are more conscious of names, (their spelling and their peculiarities), than those in other fields of endeavor. It is because we deal with 'em all the time.

And it is never-ending task to see that they appear correctly in print.

Those of us who had no better sense than to get involved in journalism at an early and impressionable age probably bore our friends terribly when we stress certain phases of this name business that we think are important or unusual.

Generally most of our friends could care less.

As a for instance: Recently we attended an affair at which Councilman and Mrs. Dean Chamberlin and Superior__Judge Richard (Dusty) and Mrs. Rhodes were also guests.

It so happened that Councilman Chamberlin and Mrs. Rhodes sat next to each other.

We thought that was an unusual coincidence and so publicly stated.

Not that there was anything unusual about a councilman and a judge's wife sitting next to each other.

It just so happens that their first names are the same.

Dean and Dean.

When we brought up the odds of such a situation occurring and the unusualness of it, others in the group nodded and smiled and went on with their conversation.

It's a good thing we have a column in which to drop such tidbits.

Otherwise just think how posterity would suffer?

We know. We know.

Who is this guy "posterity" and how do you spell it?

SPEAKING OF NAMES: From time to time we have mentioned in this column that with a relatively uncommon name like ours, VIERHUS, people have little trouble finding us in the phone book.

There are never very many in any directory. And if they are, they are related anyway.

Obviously there are advantages and disadvantages to such a situation.

For example, on Wednesday after this paper is out, it might be a lot better for us if people had to hunt harder for our name in the book.

Even with our nephew Jack now in the area, having moved here from Pennsylvania recently, it still isn't much of a task to find the right Vierhus..

However, this will grab some of you. Our nephew Jack and his wife, Mary, have four young sons....

What if they all stay around here?

But still it won't be like the Smiths or Johnsons or Browns.

For example, while in Fresno recently our Dorothy wanted to call a young friend of ours with the monicker of

Kiwanis-Rotary tangle Monday

In a traditional event, which to some degree resembles softball, the Kiwanis Club and the Rotary Club will meet on the Campbell High ball field next Monday at 6 p.m.

Managers of both clubs, Rotarian Merv Willoughby and Kiwanian Karl Marshall, are predicting one-sided victories.

TOPLESS RETURN

A local "topless" establishment will get a chance for rebuttal on August 20 of the evidence that was presented by the Campbell police department at the hearing on July 9 on whether the bar's license should be revoked in the city.

Council overrules Planners to approve service station

By a 3-2 vote the City Council on Monday night approved a service station for Winchester Blvd., just south of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center, overruling a unanimous Planning Commission decision on June 17 which had rejected the application submitted by Humble Oil for a use permit for the same station.

Two former planning commissioners now on the Council, Homer Hyde and Dean Chamberlin, were joined by Councilman Ralph Doetsch in voting to upset the commission's ruling.

Mayor Bill Smeed, another former commissioner, and Councilman Ed Rogers, voted to uphold the Planning Commission action.

In voting to overrule the Planning Commission, the three councilmen indicated that they were not satisfied with the reasons offered by the Planning Commission in denying the use permit.

The commission's basis for denial, it was pointed out, hinged on two points, (1) that the proposed gas station would be detrimental to property improvements and future development of the area.

The three councilmen felt that the statements of Bill Wren, public works director, especially on the traffic situation, did not warrant a denial of the use permit.

The station was proposed by the developers of the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center who agreed to construct a 40-foot "private street" on the north edge of the station which would connect Nido with Winchester across the center's parking lot. This had been suggested by the city's public works department.

The case for the oil company was carried to the City Council, both by letter and orally, by Charles W. Davidson, a civil engineer, who claimed with the proposed left turning lanes, no traffic problem would be created.

In another action, the City Council upheld a Planning Commission action that had approved a zone change and from C-1-S to R-3-S for property on Hacienda at Capri formerly owned by the Turturici family and on which the Big Boy Market had been located.

Postal service cut

Effective Saturday, July 27, Saturday window service will no longer be offered at the Campbell branch. United States Post Office, according to James Hurley, postmaster.

Due to the recent cutback in the post office budget, the local post office will observe the Saturday closing along with the other post offices in the nation until further notice.

Hurley explained that this decree means that no stamps will be sold, no packages can be mailed, no money orders processed or no packages picked up. Post office box mail will continue to be processed however.

According to Hurley the cut-back in service will not actually effect the local personnel, as postal employees will still be needed to process the window mail. The public will be the only ones to suffer from the cut back in service.

James Gilliland gets school trustee office

James W. Gilliland, 37, of 900 Central Ave., Campbell, was selected by the Campbell Union School District Board of Trustees to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Ted Sedgwick.

Gilliland, who is an engineer with IBM, has resided in this area for eight years.

Gilliland and his wife, Eileen, have two children —— Mary Kay will be an eighth grader at Monroe School next year, and Michael will be in the third grade at Castlemont School.

Gilliland received his education at Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo.

The oath of office will be administered to Gilliland at the board meeting, August 6. He will serve the remainder of the unexpired term of Sedgwick through June, 1971.

JOINT EFFORT——City officials joined with Campbell-Moreland Pony League representatives recently at a ground-breaking, home-plate setting, cake-cutting ceremony at the city's undeveloped Rincon Park site. The program officially "kicked-off" the building program for a new ball field at the park. The City Council, acting on the recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Commission, recently approved the Pony League developing, improving and using the ball field at the park.

Council to hold hearing Monday

Campbell's City Council next Monday night (July 29) will take up where the Planning Commission left off when the first of a series of public hearings on the advanced planning program (701) is scheduled.

The spotlight next Monday night will be on future plans for "Specific Area I" (San Tomas Expressway area) which provoked considerable interest at the Planning Commission hearing.

The proposed land use for the so-called Amato property on W. Campbell Ave. and curtailing of commercial areas were just two of the more vexing problems that concerned the residents at the previous hearings.

Summer workshop presents musicals

"The Fantasticks", by Tom Jones and Harvey L. Schmidt, will open Saturday, July 27 at the Campbell High School Auditorium, as one of the two musical productions scheduled by the Campbell High School district's Summer Humanities Workshop.

A charming parable about life and love and the consequent conflicts brought about by a teen-age love affair, "The Fantasticks" offers something for all ages. Adults will enjoy the parental plights of the two fathers (and perhaps give a sigh of relief that they are no longer a teen-ager in love) while the young people will identify themselves with the lead roles of Luisa and Matt.

Cast as El Gallo is Walt Ritter; Luisa is played by Julie Gable while Mike Milton capably handles the role of Matt. The two fathers, Hucklebee and Bellomy are played by Mark Newell and Kim Boe. Henry Albertson, the aged Shakespearean actor, is portrayed by Dennis Schmedes and his side-kick, Mortimer, is is acted by George Akina. The silent member of the cast, who symbolizes everything that can come between the two lovers, is handled by Ann Sjoberg, known as The Mute.

The entire production is played on a blacked out stage with four pipes forming the framework for the setting and light changes setting the different moods.

Tickets for The Fantasticks are available at the door or by calling 379-4710. All tickets, $1.50. The production will be repeated at the auditorium on August 6 and at the Saratoga Civic Council Theatre on Sunday, August 4. Curtain at 8 p.m.

The second production of the Humanities Workshop will be the Music Man, by Meredith Willson, scheduled for August 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Tickets for The Music Man will be $1.50 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12.

PRETTY-UP PRETTIES——Allan Blaine, owner of Aero Drugs, 2075 Winchester Blvd., receives a personal invitation from two pretty Campbell Jaycettes to participate in the city-wide business clean-up campaign commencing August 5. Seated in Campbell's Model A fire truck is Mrs. Rose Gomes and Mrs. Dixie Van Duyn. Youngsters ready to add their muscle are Susan Van Duyn, Amy Weitzel and Vincent Roybal.

Parents launch fund drive to bring lights to Del Mar High School bowl

There may be night football games in the Campbell Union High School District for the first time in history, if plans of the newly-formed Del Mar Foundation materialize.

In a memo this week directed to parents of Del Mar High School students Bob Rexroad and Jerry Hamilton, co-chairmen of the Del Mar Foundation, announced the launching of a project that has as its goal securing lights for the Del Mar Bowl, Del Mar High School's athletic field.

The estimated cost for the ambitious project is estimated at $60,000 but through the cooperation of General Electric Co., the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Operating Engineers Union, plus contributions by other interested persons and firms, it is anticipated that the lights on the field can be installed for $21,000.

The co-chairmen, in their report to the parents, conceded that it was an ambitious project and that time was limited. They maintained, however, it could be accomplished with the proper cooperation and support.

The note to the parents also explained that it was necessary to put the program on a cash basis. In addition, because the district is on a state-aid program, the trustees can not underwrite a lighted field.

According to the co-chairmen, a committee of parents plans to contact all parents in the Del Mar High School area either by phone or in person within the next few weeks.

Editorial

On law enforcement

Recently Police Chief John D. Morgan of Campbell was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Inter-City Council at which all 15 cities of Santa Clara County are represented.

The topic of Chief Morgan's talk was "Is Justice Black or White?"

The message of Chief Morgan made a definite impact on the city officials attending the Inter-City Council meeting.

Space will not permit us to publish the entire speech of Chief Morgan.

However, we felt that the concluding portion of his talk so effectively brought into focus some of the many problems of law enforcement that it would be invaluable to all of us:

IS JUSTICE BLACK OR WHITE?
By Police Chief John Morgan

It is time for our legislative bodies to re-evaluate the role of the police officer. Dedication on the part of the police officer is certainly an important factor, but I'm firmly convinced that dedication to any particular field of service is learned.

How can you be dedicated to something you do not know?

So we must look for those individuals who have the latent personal traits of dedication and attract them to law enforcement.

I believe that there must begin an honest exchange of ideas and thoughts and I would like to go out on a limb and tell you what we must do if indeed, we are going to bring about justice.

1. We must control, and if we cannot control, eliminate from public service, whether it be police, fire or administration, those whose prejudices become manifest.

2. Law enforcement must become more active to insure that just and enforceable laws are legislated and those that are detrimental are removed from statute.

3. Law enforcement must be academically able and then properly motivated to take a part in the resolution of social conditions that bring about conditions that contribute to potential criminal situations.

4. The legislative branch of government in our cities, as well as the administrators, must realize that monetary compensation alone will not encourage the type of officer we want in law enforcement. We must have your support along with your willingness to stand up and be counted.

5. The courts cannot continue to tolerate or be lenient with those who under any guise intentionally flaunt the laws.

Justice must be both black and white. As you know, black is the absence of color and our laws must be enforced exactly that way, and our lawmakers, you, must enact laws that do not consider a man's race or religion. As a law enforcement officer, I feel that I belong to a minority group, probably one of the smallest. Yet, when I go shopping, or to the beach, I don't have to wear the uniform of that minority.

The Mexican-American, the Afro-American, hasn't the ability to shed himself of this position. Therefore, the solution lies, if you will, in having "black" justice -- justice that sees no color; justice that is absent of minority consideration. I hope -- and pray -- for a day when the only important thing is the consideration that we are dealing with a human being.

And as I indicated, justice must also be white, white -- the blending of all colors, a realization that comes when together, the white, black, brown, red, yellow, are all united in a common purpose. Then will justice prevail.

Those of whatever race, who preach violence; those of whatever academic achievement or who under the guise of education, advocate force; those who disregard the rights of others, contribute to the malignancy that can destroy our nation.

We must have law and order because only through order can the rights we speak of be meaningful. Freedom cannot survive without law to protect it. We cannot tolerate motorcycle gangs that present a real threat to our citizens. We cannot, under the banner of individual rights, allow activities which continue to undermine the moral fibers of our communities.

It seems, and if I appear critical, try to realize the frustrations that face all of us, that the only time concern is expressed is after some tragedy such as the assassination of Robert Kennedy or Martin Luther King or John F. Kennedy. And then the cry, for example, -- gun legislation.

We have gun laws on the books now we can't enforce and unless I've been reading the wrong material, the legislation that is being proposed is virtually unenforceable. But more importantly, I believe that even if enforceable gun legislation were enacted, it would not be the answer. You cannot legislate morals. You cannot legislate violence out of our society. But there is something you can do.

Take a mirror and look at yourself. Better yet, look carefully at your youngsters because what you see is indeed, what you are.

Those most precious products of our society are no different than we. They must be a part, they must belong and they must be loved and wanted.

Have we become so concerned with ourselves that we haven't taken time to keep together the basic unit of our society -- our families? Have we become so concerned with success, with getting-ahead, with our own pursuit of pleasure that we have forgotten how important our neighbors, wives and children are? When was the last time you took the time to tell your children you loved them, not with birthday gifts, Christmas presents or ten dollars to go on a date, but with words and time? When was the last time, with no reason except love and thoughtfulness, you brought your wife flowers or expressed your feelings.

Have we become so egocentric in our concerns that we have forgotten what love is? Are we so involved with ourselves that we have indeed forgotten what justice really is? Perhaps the answer is so basic we have overlooked it.

I believe that our concern for individual rights means concern for justice for all of our fellow-men.

There is a quotation hung on the wall of my office. If we can achieve friendship as described in this quotation, progress toward true justice will prevail and our nation will mature into its full promise:

"Friendship is the comfort, the inexpressible comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neigh comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor measure words, but pouring all right out, just as they are, chaff and grain together, certain that a faithful friendly hand will take and sift them, keep what is worth keeping and with a breath of comfort, blow the rest away."

ANOTHER INSTANCE of common vs. uncommon names occurred recently when our friends the Bill Snyders from Monterey Park were visiting us.

The four of us walked into a restaurant at which Mr. and Mrs. Ray Snyder of Campbell were sitting at a table.

Naturally we had to introduce our friends the Snyders.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder meet Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. No relation, of course.

For sure that could never happen to a Vierhus.

We have to be introduced to a strange Vierhus from time to time. (That sure leaves an opening.) But it has always been a relative.

Maybe a little removed, to be sure, but still stemming from the same family tree.

CALIFORNIA EXPOSITION (Cal Expo, for short) is now open in Sacramento and is going full blast, if we are to believe the news releases that flood our desk daily.

Called the "showcase of the Golden State" the exposition is to replace the state fair and eventually will be open on a year-round basis.

We haven't had any contacts with any department except public relations.

But, man, if the other expo officials work only half as hard as the PR people, the exposition is bound to be a success.

That is, if success can be gauged in the PR field by the millions of words that flow from the expo's mimeograph machine.

Last Friday, there were five expo releases in our mail.

The flow started before the expo opened and has picked up momentum since....

We noted that Friday's last release was indexed as No. 68-394.

Some time before the exposition opened we toured the joint.

It was hard to believe that it could be ready this year. But it has opened. However, some critics claim it opened three years before it was ready.

Another cynic claimed that, although it was open, there was not much to see. But without any trees around you could see it fast.

Of course, the guy may have been slightly prejudiced.

Sacramento in the summer, with or without an exposition, isn't the most attractive spot in the universe.

NOW-IT-CAN-BE-TOLD Department -- Sufficient time has now elapsed, we think, so that our neighborhood has more or less forgotten a short-lived noisy "party" that took place some time ago in our block.

The truth can now be re-revealed without fear of repercussion or retaliation.

Early one morning (2:15 a.m.) not so long ago, we were awakened by loud music coming from some place in our neighborhood.

We went to the bedroom door, trying to pinpoint the source while sleepily making unprintable remarks about how inconsiderate some of our neighbors were.

First, for staging such a noisy party at that time of day or night and, secondly, for not having invited us in the first place.

We "pinpointed" the source all right. It was coming from our own barbecue room which is separate from the house.

The radio was blaring forth loud and clear.

The room was dark and there was no one in it.

But somehow earlier in the evening there had been a mix-up in the on and off switches that control the lights, the radio and the record player.

And all of a sudden and all by itself, that blamed old radio blasted off at 2:15 a.m.

We scurried out to the barbecue room, turned the proper knob which cut off the racket and then scooted back to bed.

Fortunately, it was dark, no one could see our red face.

Tony Bonaccorso leaves BofA after 36 years in banking field

TONY BONACCORSO

Anthony S. (Tony) Bonaccorso, lending officer for the Bank of America, Hamilton branch, took off his banking hat Friday and stepped down from the platform after working in the banking profession for a total of 36 years.

Bonaccorso first started working in November 1926 in the San Jose main branch of the Bank of America, and worked until 1942. In November of 1947 he started serving his "second hitch" in the banking profession and worked up from collection clerk to assistant operations officer in the Hester branch. When the Hamilton branch opened, Bonaccorso moved over as operations officer and then as lending officer.

During his years as a banker he served as treasurer of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and also a term as treasurer of the Kiwanis. Other civic duties included serving on the committee for the Campbell Sister City.

He and his wife Geraldine have lived at 570 Pamlar Avenue since 1947. They are the parents of two daughters, Judy and Janet, and have one grandchild with a second grandchild expected toward the end of the year.

Retirement plans include a good deal of traveling with his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Adamson. The two couples have been enjoying camping vacations together for the last 15 years, and Adamson plans to retire on August 3, so the quartet plan to do extensive camping via trailer. Idaho and Utah are on the first of the list where Bonaccorso will try his hand at prospecting.

Residents ask city to improve Sunnyside Ave.

Residents on Sunnyside Ave. in Campbell will probably get their street improved by bond money that was voted last fall, if they follow the "one-third -- two-thirds -- formula" as recommended by the Citizens Committee that presented the bond issue.

That was indicated by Bill Helms, associate city engineer, Monday night after he had met briefly with residents of the street who attended the City Council meeting.

Helms said that a meeting has been scheduled with the residents to explain the details of the street improvement program. Some of the residents appeared unfamiliar with the entire street improvement concept or had misunderstood the basis of the program.

The matter came to a head when residents of the street had protested the continuous use of the street by trucks. They then petitioned the City Council to take steps to improve the street.

In addition to the petition, a large delegation of residents were in hand to press their case. Spokesmen for the group included, Marshall Dietrick, 223 Sunnyside; the Rev. Irwin Weyhe, pastor of Campbell Baptist Church, at 151 Sunnyside and Hershel Carter, 199 Sunnyside.

H. H. Bloomfield, 190 Sunnyside, was instigator of the petition after he had complained to the city hall about the trucks using the street in violation of the posting.

perty, had requested the zone change and had submitted plans that call for a plush garden apartment complex to be built on the site.

Two members of the Turturici family were present in the audience to protest the zone change for two lots on the extension of Capri at the rear of the property. They indicated they wanted the two lots, which remain under the Turturici family ownership to retain their C-1-S status.

But the Council felt that no useful purpose would be served by having a land-locked commercial parcel in the rear and unanimously approved the R-3-S zone for the entire parcel.

Marine plywood stolen from yard

Some unknown person with a forklift truck and a yen for marine plywood managed to make off with 1500 pounds of plywood valued at $300 sometime Sunday or Sunday night.

The theft occurred at the storage yard at 208 Railway Avenue, according to Michael Barton, owner of the material. It consisted of 24 sheets of marine plywood, piled inside a fenced yard with a gate opening of only 100". During the night apparently someone removed the plywood through the gate, but before they could do so they had to remove approximately 2 tons of metal stored in boxes on top of the plywood. All that was left was a clear impression of the tire tracks.

Jack H. Britton, 1150 Denver, reported to police that a red tool box with approximately $260 worth of tools was removed from the bed of his pickup truck sometime during the night, over the weekend. The box was unlocked and not bolted to the truck bed.

Other police reports concerned family domestic arguments, stolen bikes, and numerous reports of stolen stereo tapes from autos. Police cautioned owners of car "tapes" to remove the tempting merchandise from sight when leaving the vehicles.

CAMPBELL'S LOSS---Bob Dalzell, active in community projects and a former president of the Campbell Jaycees, notified the City Council Monday night that he should not be considered for any city commission vacancy. Dalzell, a graduate of the local schools and San Jose State, has been transferred by his employer, PG&E, to Santa Maria.

TOWER ACTION MUST WAIT

Campbell City Councilmen must wait until August 12 before definite information will be available as to how long both Pittsburgh Steel and Fred Sahadi can delay their dramatic civic center proposal made to the city.

The city's bond counsel had recommended that the developers indicate how their time table would be affected by the city checking out all the legal ramifications over a long period of time.

If the tower question is to go to the electorate in the general election in November, the deadline for that is Aug. 26.

MARINE DRIVE

Marine Private First Class Joseph D. Scherff, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Scherff of 1441 Walnut Drive, Campbell, participated in Operation Mameluke Thrust against enemy forces southwest of Danang, Vietnam, as a member of the First Marine Division.

REAPPOINTED---Frank Klein (left) currently serving as chairman of the Planning Commission, and Jack Healey, a former commission chairman, were reappointed to the Planning Commission for new four year terms on Monday night by the City Council.

The city has approved the permanent ball field for the park to be built by the league and, according to Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, many firms and individuals have already donated materials.

These include an electric scoreboard, Otsen Sign Co.; sheetrock from Raich Drywall Co.; public address system from Dr. John Johns; plumbing material from Winchester Plumbing; heavy equipment by Bob Smith; carpentry materials and labor from Lee Mondragon and John Benorques.

Material and labor for the installation of the automatic sprinkler system is still needed, according to Chuck Cannady of the Pony League. He can be reached at 374-0986. Mrs. Linda Neil, of the Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission, also can be contacted at 379-7309 by would-be donors of material.

Susan Wheeler – Joseph Ritchey recently united in marriage

MR. and MRS. JOSEPH LELAND RITCHEY, JR.

A double ring ceremony held recently at St. Lucy's Catholic Church united Susan Wheeler and Joseph Leland Ritchey, Jr. in marriage. Officiating was the Rev. Louis B. Franklin with Jamie Wheeler, and Paul Kennelly as servers.

The bride wore a floor length A-line gown of cameo organza over cameo taffeta fashioned with a Viennese lace bodice, short sleeves and accents of powder blue satin ribbon. Her long train was also of cameo organza banded in Viennese lace over light blue satin ribbon. A candlelight shoulder length silk illusion veil caught with a cluster of candlelight daisies completed her ensemble, and she carried a bouquet of blue daisies and yellow roses with powder blue ribbon streamers.

The charming bridal color picture of blue and yellow was carried out by the powder blue A-line floor length organza dress worn by Mrs. Joseph Nunes of Campbell, who served her sister as honor attendant. Five bridesmaids attired in pale yellow organza dresses in the same style preceeded the bride. They included Miss Holly Anne Wheeler as junior bridesmaid; Miss Theresa Wheeler, Miss Meredith Medeiros, Miss Judy Nunes and Miss Joanne Stypula. Mrs. Nunes carried blue daisies with powder blue streamers and the other attendants white daisies with pale yellow streamers.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wheeler, Jr. of 2310 Montezuma Drive. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wheeler chose a yellow and white polka dot coat worn over a white linen dress, with white accessories and a yellow orchid corsage.

Serving Joseph as best man was his brother, Gary H. Ritchey with Kevin Wheeler, Joseph Nunes, Patrick Wheeler, Arlo Simon and Tim Wheeler ushering.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leland Sr. of San Jose. A two piece ensemble in walnut was worn by the groom's mother, accented with white accessories and a white orchid.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception featuring a sit-down buffet and dance was held at Kennelly Hall for approximately 150 guests, at which time the three tiered wedding cake topped with fresh yellow roses was cut.

The bride, who attended West Valley College and San Jose State is now employed at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital.

The groom, who is presently employed as an associate design engineer at Food Machinery Corporation, was graduated from Santa Clara University. Following a honeymoon in Mexico, the new Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey are now making their home in Santa Clara.

Randal Dove claims bride in ceremony

MRS. RANDAL CLAYTON DOVE

Trinity Episcopal Church was the setting for the double ring marriage ceremony which recently united Phyllis Ann Cunningham and Randal Clayton Dove in the bonds of matrimony.

For her wedding Phyllis chose a satin princess floor length gown with a high roll collar and long tapered sleeves fashioned with a full chapel length train edged in lace scallops. A cornet of matching lace flowers held a silk illusion veil in place and she carried yellow roses and white stephanotis.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Cunningham, Jr. of 18532 Paseo Pueblo, Saratoga, Phyllis was graduated from Campbell Union High School and San Jose City College. Her mother chose a dusty pink raw silk dress with matching jacket and pink and white accessories for her daughters wedding, accented with a white butterfly orchid corsage.

Brides attendents included Mrs. Richard A. Cunningham, Miss Laurie Hepler, Miss Cheryl Williams and Mrs. Kenneth Smith who were gowned alike in celery satin A-line dresses with silk organza sleeves trimmed with lily of the valley. They each carried French bouquets of matching green carnations.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton E. Dove, 14901 Nelson Way, San Jose. A graduate of Camden High he attended San Jose City College before enlisting in the Navy as a medical corpman. He is now attending x-ray technician school at O' Connor Hospital. His father served as best man with Chester Scott, Larry Morton, and Richard A. Cunningham ushering.

Approximately 250 guests watched the young couple cut the four tiered wedding cake that had been baked and decorated by the brides mother. The reception was held in the History Club of Los Gatos after which the new Mr. and Mrs. Dove left for their honeymoon in Southern California. The newly-weds are now at home in San Jose.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. William J. Borns are announcing the engagement of their daughter Mary Jane to William T. Roseblade III. The nuptial news was announced at a family gathering at the home of the bride-elect, 1505 Capri Drive.

August 31 at high noon has been set for the wedding which will take place at St. Lucy's Catholic Church.

Mary Jane, who was graduated from Campbell High School in 1966, and attended West Valley College, is now employed as a dental assistant for Dr. Eugene J. Bowen.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roseblade of Santa Clara. A graduate of Santa Clara University, he is now employed at Ford Motors and is working toward his masters degree in Business Administration at the Santa Clara University.

Rampys win weeks all expense trip to Hawaii

Dreams do come true and people really do win drawings. And Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rampy, owners of Kirkwood Hardware in Kirkwood Shopping Plaza, are ready to testify that people really do win, and that they, the winners, are now in Hawaii for a weeks all-expense paid vacation for two.

Mr. and Mrs. Rampy were the surprised and delighted winners of the drawing conducted by the Hardware Association convention in San Francisco, at which all the northern California hardware stores were participating. Each store was entitled to one card—and Troy almost forgot to deposit their card!

The business couple left Sunday by Pan American airlines and are staying at one of the leading hotels in Honolulu. Part of the "package" includes a luau, and after that they will be on their own to enjoy the islands.

Mrs. Rampy stated that they had talked for several years of wanting to go to the Islands and had never really dreamed of winning the trip—

Mrs. Evelyn Knowles dies in Utah accident

Graveside services were held this week in Greenville, South Carolina, for Mrs. Evelyn V. Knowles, 44, of 89 W. Cherry Lane, who was killed last Tuesday approximately 20 miles east of Salt Lake City, Utah when the car she was driving plowed into the rear of a moving van, fatally injuring Mrs. Knowles.

With Mrs. Knowles at the time of the accident were her aunt, Mrs. Onia Mae Lindley of Greenville, S.C., who was critically injured; her husband, Arthur Glen Knowles, and granddaughter, Elizabeth Allen, 22 months. Both Knowles and the grandchild were in the back seat at the time of the accident and received only minor injuries. Knowles is employed at the Campbell Post Office as superintendent of mails.

The accident occurred at approximately 9:30 p.m., according to Mrs. A. Knowles, mother-in-law of the victim, and was the only time Mrs. Knowles had driven the car during the six weeks eastern vacation trip that the Knowles had been enjoying.

The aunt, Mrs. Lindley is presently confined to the University of Utah Hospital in Salt Lake City, and is reported to be recovering, although quite critically injured.

The van driver, Thomas M. Weddle of Anaheim, was uninjured and could offer no explanation for the cause of the accident.

Knowles flew his wife's body back to South Carolina where she had expressed a wish to be buried. Memorial contributions may be made in her name to the Shriner's Crippled Children Hospital, where Mrs. Knowles received treatment as a child victim of polio.

She leaves, besides her husband and granddaughter, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Allen, also of Campbell. Other survivors include a stepmother and several brothers in South Carolina.

James Hurley, postmaster, expressed his shock at the accident and remembered that for the last 10 or 12 years Mrs. Knowles had brought in a huge basket of fried chicken for the postal employees every Christmas eve. Knowles had been employed at the local post office since 1950.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In a 1966 speech to the House I was critical of "Our Crumbling Foreign Policy", and the administration of foreign aid. After crediting the original program with saving much of Europe from Communism, I said: "Today, the nature of the challenge we face has changed, while our response has not...Our aid to Europe was successful because the necessary skills, leadership, ideologies, and institutions were on hand....Today's critical areas – Asia, Africa, Latin America...almost totally lack such assets....Fancy technological projects are meaningless...because we have never stopped spending long enough to...formulate realistic goals aimed squarely at the human problems of underdeveloped countries–overpopulation, disease, and the frustrated aspirations of exploited people."

For this and other reasons, I voted against foreign aid for several years and called for a changed approach. Other Congressmen of both parties have done likewise and foreign aid has shrunk from almost $7 billion in 1948 to what may be less than $2 billion next year.

This cutback has started the change in emphasis many of us have been seeking.

Other nations are now carrying a higher share of the foreign aid load. Today we supply less than half of the aid furnished to developing nations. In the early days of the Marshall Plan, 2.8% of our Gross National Product went to foreign aid. This year's bill proposes an investment of only 3/5 of 1%. France contributes almost twice as great a proportion of its GNP as we do and the Netherlands contributes 50% more.

As foreign aid has been gradually cut back, its administration across the world has vastly improved. Admittedly, it has much further to go, but it is improving.

The most important improvement is a changed emphasis. Instead of spending on grandiose steel plants, hydroelectric dams, and freeways which go nowhere, we are finally recognizing what I tried to say in my speech to the House. Our first emphasis is changing to meet the basic human problems of overpopulation, disease, hunger, etc. We have invested in fertilizer plants and introduced the new Miracle Rice and Wonder Wheat. As a result, the Philippines are self-sufficient in rice for the first time since 1903, Iran will export wheat this year, Ceylon's rice harvest will top the previous record by 13%. Pakistan's wheat output is up 30% and India is now producing 12% above its previous record of food grain production. Foreign aid may have turned the corner to finally head in the right direction.

Congress must now decide whether we are to have a program. at all. Presidential candidates of both parties admit the need for some aid program as necessary in the conduct of a foreign policy. If Congress kills the program completely the new President, whoever he is, will be forced to formulate a new one.

It would be easy to ride the popular wave of resentment against a foreign aid program, but now the time has come when a responsible Congress should determine if it has accomplished the reforms and changes it has been seeking in recent years. Today the real issue is whether we will have a foreign aid program or none at all.
